

MotorOne enviroKote Rustproofing Treatment

PROTECT YOUR VEHICLE FROM THE UNSIGHTLY, COSTLY AND DANGEROUS FORMATION OF STRUCTURAL RUST

Our Enviro Rustproofing Coating is a clear and/or black water based coating that is designed to prevent the formation of structural rust in vehicles. The rust protection adheres to the metal and forms a seal over the surface. Because the surface is now sealed, it becomes air tight and water tight. This significantly reduces the ability for the rust process to occur.

ABOUT THE PRODUCT:

Enviro Rustproofing Coating is...

- A clear and/or black water based coating
- Environmentally friendly
- Used widely through other industries for sealing against the harmful effects from environmental damage
- Engineered using nanotechnology which creates superior bonding to the treated surface
- Creates a hydrophobic surface – the coating repels moisture between metal surfaces

PRODUCT BENEFITS:

- Protects the vehicle against perforation rust from the window level down
- Contributes to ensuring a safer vehicle – rust can compromise the structural integrity of the vehicle
- Because rust is considered a safety issue, all states require vehicles to be free of structural rust in order to comply with state roadworthy/fitness laws
- Helps preserve resale value – rust in a vehicle can significantly reduce the re-sale value
- National lifetime warranty*
